Erie 1 BOCES FUSION Fashion Show to showcase Kenmore East student’s clothing

West Seneca (March 10, 2020) - Students in the Erie 1 BOCES Fashion Design Technology program will have their individually designed outfits hit the runway during the 2020 FUSION Fashion Show: Figment of Imagination.

Now in its 11th year, the FUSION Fashion Show will take place on Thursday, March 19 and will showcase the work of nearly 35 high school fashion students from across Western New York. The show will be at 7 p.m. at Buffalo State College, in the Campbell Student Union Social Hall, 1300 Elmwood Ave., Buffalo.

Cole Eberle from Kenmore East High School is one of the senior students exhibiting their personally designed and sewn collections at the fashion show. He explained his line of clothing draws upon functionality, with a stylish edge to garments that are seen frequently.

“Fashion is the one thing that connects all of us together,” Cole noted. “Its limitless potential and endless creativity inspires me to find my place in the vast industry. Everyone has their own varying sense of style, making it part of who we are as individuals. It’s an industry that you can never fully grasp because of the beautiful mystery and effect it has on our lives.”

After high school, Cole will attend LIM College, a fashion business school in New York City. He said he is excited to move to a city that is heavily involved in the industry and filled with opportunities to learn about different cultures.

In addition to the seniors, juniors will be presenting upcycled items from previously worn garments at the show.

The show has evolved into a collaborative event across various Erie 1 BOCES programs. Barbering and Cosmetology students will be doing hair and makeup for over 75 models, while Criminal Justice students will provide support for security. Digital Media students produced videos that will introduce each fashion student and their collection; these students also assisted in professional photos and videography for the show.

Erie 1 BOCES’ two-year Fashion Design Technology program at the Harkness Career & Technical Center teaches students how to create, style and trend forecast based on design elements and the fashion cycle. Participants also create a successful business plan for a fashion business, setting them up for future success.

The show is free and open to family members and community members with a high interest in the fashion industry, though all guests will need a ticket available at the event. Seating is limited. Open seating begins at 6 p.m.
In lieu of ticket price, attendees are asked to donate a pair of previously worn jeans which will be donated to Goodwill of Western New York. Donations can be brought to the show, where they will be taken at the door.
